

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

RULES OF THE PORTLAND PUBLIC LIBRARY.

1. The Library shall be open from nine o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock in the evening on all secular days throughout the year except New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Fast Day, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas Day, and except such other days as the Trustees may direct for the closing of the whole or any part of the Library, but no book shall be delivered to be taken away or to be consulted in the Reading Room during the last half-hour before closing at night without the special permission of the Librarian.

2. All books belonging to the Library may at the discretion of the Librarian be used in the building, and in such part of it as he may designate — a discretion which he is required by the Trustees to exercise, especially in the case of minors and in the use of books of great value or rarity. All examination of costly or rare books must be made, if the Librarian require it, in the presence or with the assistance of an attendant connected with the Library.

3. Encyclopedias, dictionaries and other books needed for reference in the Library Building; books not easily to be replaced in consequence of their rarity or value; books expressly given for reference only, and books deemed by the Trustees to be unsuitable for general circulation, shall be used only in the Library Building. The word "book" in all rules may include pamphlet, paper, manuscript or other article.

4. No book shall be taken from the Library without the record of the Librarian. Books not otherwise designated may be retained two weeks and cannot be recharged until they have been returned and examined. A book once recharged cannot be a third time charged to the same person within twenty-four hours of the time when last returned to the Library if application for the same book has been made by any other person. Books marked three or seven days must be returned within that time, and cannot be recharged within twenty-four hours of the time when returned to the Library if application for the same book has been made by any other person.

No person shall lend a book belonging to the Library.

5. Every inhabitant of Portland fourteen years of age and upward, of proper character, shall be entitled to all the privileges of the Library upon condition of observing such rules and regulations as may be prescribed. Every one before being permitted to take a book home shall state in writing his or her name: if fourteen years old, and whether older or younger than twenty-one years; if a minor, the name of parent or guardian, occupation and residence, and if required shall give a satisfactory reference to one or more citizens.

All changes of residence shall be reported, and, if this is neglected, the right to take books will be suspended. Not more than one volume shall at one time be charged to the same person. Children under fourteen years of age may have the use of the Reading Rooms at the discretion and under direction of the Librarian, and, upon the written request of parent, guardian, or teacher, the Librarian may allow them to take out books.

6. Cards and printed slips used in calling for or taking out books will be furnished at the Library. The card used for taking out books must always be presented when taking or returning a book. These cards are not transferable. When a card is presented for a book its number must be distinctly written in the space designed for it just as it is printed in the finding list.

Strangers residing temporarily in the city may on a written recommendation satisfactory to the Librarian, be furnished special cards allowing them to take books from the Library on the same terms as residents.

7. All persons, whether inhabitants of Portland or not, presenting themselves in suitable condition of sobriety and cleanliness, shall be permitted to consult and read books in the Reading Room at hours when the Library is open. They shall apply to the Librarian or assistants for the book they wish, upon the slip to be furnished, to which they shall sign their names and residences. When they have finished using the book they shall return it to the counter and deliver it to the Librarian or to an assistant. Persons leaving books on the reading tables or failing to return them to the counter will be denied further privileges till such time as the Committee of Administration shall remove the restriction.

Conversation is not allowed in the Reading Room.

Ink shall not be used in the Reading Room or Library in making extracts from any book, pamphlet, or paper.

The books of reference kept in the Reading Room may be consulted without application to any assistant, but shall be restored to place as soon as consulted. No person shall have in the Reading Room more than one volume at the same time, unless by special permission of the Librarian.

LIBRARIAN.

8. The Librarian shall be appointed by the Board of Trustees by ballot, and his compensation shall be fixed by the Trustees. The Librarian shall be the chief executive officer of the Library, to whom the assistants shall look for all instructions, and to whom they shall make report of any misconduct of persons using the Library, injury to books, or improper detention of books, supplies needed or other things affecting the good order and safety of the Library and its property, coming to their notice. He shall for the time being decide all questions as to the use of books and the privileges of the Library, that shall be submitted to him, but his decision shall always be subject to revision by the Committee of Administration and the Board of Trustees. He shall carefully oversee the conduct of all Assistants and the Janitor, and promptly report to the Committee of Administration all insufficiencies and delinquencies of subordinates under his direction. He shall keep or cause to be kept in suitable books a full and minute register of every person taking books from the Library, in which shall be entered the name of such person, whether a minor or an adult, and if a minor the name of parent or guardian, occupation and residence, and also the names of the persons vouching for character.

He shall keep or cause to be kept in a suitable and orderly way a record of every book let out, stating the title of the book or other suitable designation, the person to whom loaned, the date of its delivery and the date of its return, with a column for minuting any injury during the detention of the book; and shall in case of abuse and improper treatment of books or misconduct in the Library have power to suspend for the time being the privileges of the person in fault, and report such suspension at the earliest practicable time to the Committee of Administration with the reasons for his action.

He shall, when required, attend meetings of the Board and of any committee. He is charged with the general oversight of the daily business of the Library, and shall make known to the Committee of Administration matters calling for their attention, and shall point out to them any changes in the method of conducting the Library which experience may suggest. He shall direct when the lights shall be burning and see that economy is practiced in the use of light.

He shall designate an Assistant to be in charge during his own temporary absence from the Library.

ASSISTANT LIBRARIANS.

9. Assistant Librarians will be appointed by the Board, but temporary appointments may be made by the Committee of Administration. The Assistants shall be prompt at the posts assigned to them, at the hour fixed for opening the Library each day, and remain for the full time required of each, unless on application excused. They will be held to examine the condition of books, when let out or delivered in the Reading Room, and when returned, and if the borrower has injured, defaced or soiled a book they shall at once call the attention of the Librarian to the fact, and shall not deliver another book to the person responsible until a proper reparation has been made, unless instructed otherwise by the Librarian. They will be expected in all instances patiently and courteously to wait upon visitors, to give information and assistance sought by persons desiring books, and will report to the Librarian any impoliteness or rudeness toward themselves and any disorderly or unbecoming behavior of visitors. They will maintain quiet in the Library and abstain from conversation except on Library business. They shall respectively attend to duties assigned to them by the Librarian, and may always appeal from his decision to the Committee of Administration, but until his decision is reversed or modified they shall conform to it.

JANITOR.

10. The Janitor shall be appointed by the Board. He shall keep the corridors and Reading Rooms and the Hall in thoroughly neat and clean condition at all times: shall remove snow from the sidewalk and entrance to the Library Building; shall manage the heating apparatus, and at proper times cause ashes and rubbish to be removed; shall light the rooms at such times as the Librarian requires; shall make requisitions for fuel and for implements needed in his work; shall at the hours appointed by the Committee of Administration cause the outer doors to be opened in the morning and fastened at night, and before leaving the building at night shall inspect all parts of the building belonging to the Library to see that the lights are extinguished and everything is safe. He shall suppress disorderly conduct in the main corridor through the building, and in the lower Reading Room and shall report to the Librarian all persons persisting in disregarding his admonitions. The heat of the building in cold weather shall be kept up to any regulation prescribed by the Committee of Administration, who shall direct when fires are to be started and when discontinued by him.

He shall at the time of his employment engage not to leave without giving at least ten days' notice if at a season of the year when fires are necessary, and five days at other times, under penalty of forfeiting two weeks' pay. And as security for his fulfilling such engagement two weeks' pay shall be kept constantly back by the Treasurer.

Sickness shall not work this forfeiture. Daily, before the Library is opened he shall inspect all water closets and urinals, and see to keeping them clean and in a wholesome condition.

FINES.

11. To protect the Library against loss, and to secure to all a just and equitable share in its benefit, every person who detains a volume longer than the regulations permit shall be fined two cents for each day of detention; and pay two cents for each mailed notice, and no remission of any fine shall be made except by the Librarian.

12. Any person detaining a book beyond the time limited by the regulations shall be immediately notified in writing, and five days afterward the book shall be sent for and an additional penalty of ten cents shall be collected from any delinquent whose book has been sent for, and no book shall be delivered to any person whose fines or penalties remain unsettled.

13. All injuries to books beyond a reasonable wear, and all losses, shall be made good, to the satisfaction of the Librarian by the person liable therefor: every book detained above three months shall be deemed lost.

14. All books must be returned to the Library at such times as may be required by the Trustees, under penalty of a fine of one dollar for each volume detained: but reasonable notice of the time when books must be returned shall be given in the newspapers of the city.

15. All conversation and conduct inconsistent with quiet and order, are strictly prohibited.

16. Gentlemen will remove their hats in the Reading Room and all mud must be removed from the feet before entering the Library. Umbrellas and canes will be deposited in the places provided for them.

17. No person, but the trustees and officers of the Library and Attendants will be allowed to enter the Stack Room without the special permission of the Librarian.

18. Any person who abuses the privileges of the Library by unbecoming conduct, by violation of any of the regulations, by intentional defacement of a book by writing in it or by any other way, shall be reported to the Trustees as soon as may be, and be by them thenceforth, or for a time, excluded from the Library, according to the nature and degree of the delinquency or default; but in case of any gross offense, the Librarian or his representatives may act summarily in the matter and cause the offender to be at once excluded from the building, reporting the case to the Trustees as soon as possible, in writing, for their final decision.

BAXTER HALL.

19. The Committee on the Library Building shall have charge of Baxter Hall, and may delegate to a sub-committee its control. The Hall shall not be used for any purpose likely to be accompanied by sounds that will disturb the quiet of the Library or Reading Rooms, nor for any that will so throng the passages and stairway, as unreasonably to obstruct persons coming to procure or return books.

The price for the use of the Hall shall be fixed by the Committee having it in care, in each case, but there shall in all cases be charged at least two dollars for a day or evening, as a fee to meet the expenses of cleaning and keeping the Hall in order. Door keeping and attendance shall be at the expense of parties using the Hall.

The Hall may be used for meetings of the Trustees and any Committee.

Persons going to or from the Hall, when used for other than Library purposes, shall enter and depart by the Congress Street door, and shall be strictly prohibited from using the Art Society's right of way through the corridor.
